WHEELING, W. VA., DESEMBERS, 1987.

Under the above caption the New York Press offers same advice to the Republi-can party, the tener of which is that it about not be too sanguine of victory in 1888, and that it isn't good tactics to un-derrate the strongth of the enemy.

The Press then proceeds to say that it believes the Roublican party is in the majority in this country, and but "for the for that Republican majorities in govern States are suppressed by fraud and intimi dation there would be little difficulty in gaining a victory over its ancient enemy. tariff question. They utterly ignore it. They coolly tell their readers there is no such issue. They deliberately exclude from their news columns the accounts of what a majority of the Democratic party are now doing in Washington in the line of tariff smeehing.

"The Republicans, therefore, must not rely too much on this issue. In place of it they ought and must rely upon unity of action. There must be no difference within the party, no factlocal fights, no antagonisms in regard to men. We must organize in harmony, nominate in harmony, work in harmony, and then we have some hope for victory. Above all, we must not count too much fo the blunders of the Democracy, nor feel too sure that the Democrate will not be protection in New York and free trade in Kentucky, as they were in 1884" the Republicans of Randolph county. And I promise from what I know that it will amply pay.

With W. H. H. Flick at the head of the State text our victory will be clear. There is no other man in West Virginia, in my op nios who has as firm a hold on people of all cleare. He is a man of estimable character, and a straightforward politician. While canvassing in this part of the State in 1878, he had more admirers than any man from either party who ever topke in these counties.

It seems to be generally conceded by Demecrate that Cleveland or Hill will be the National Demecratic nomines. I believe with the INTRILIGENCER, that we have time enough to await developments and consider well before saying just who can man should be, but I think now that there is no man in the Republican ranks who could have come nearer defeating Clevelsnd in New York State than Blaine, and there is none more worthy of this Nation's heapt. I am much surprised that many of our West Virginia Republicans seem to think that there may be more popular men in the party than J G. Blaine. We have no man equal to him in taiont, and but few who are his equals in executive ability. His defeat in 1884, though it could hardly be called a defeat, was due more to the cardlessness of our own party than anything else. Hurrahl for Blaine, first, last and all the time! Observer. Kingeville, W. Va., Nov. 30.

The recent victory of Beach over Han-lan, on the Nepean river, New South Wales, confirms for him the right to the championship of the world. There are Americans who believe that Teemer or Gaudour could defeat him, but it is un-likely that either of these redoubtable scullers will meet the champion, who is said to have expressed his intention to re-tire. plou Oarsman.

It cannot be gaineald that his whole policy as to civil service reform has been one of arrant hyprocrisy. Instead of turning Rapublican effice holders out, and giving the true and manly reason that the discharges were made because their places were wanted for Democrata, he has insisted that men whose records were marked by years of faithfulness and efficiency were dismissed for the good of the service. Then how important it is that an effort be made to organize our party in those sections where no organization exists, before the time arrives in which every man should be a heast in himself and be girded for the combat, going forth conquering and to conquer. One thing above all others is weighing us down in Randolph: We have no standard around which to rally and hence there in not combined or vigorous sction. Our county needs a committee of the people and for the people composed of members from each district who would not scutple to waste a few days in conducting county and district meetings from time to time as may be required. There ought to be a Republican county press to counteract the influence spread abroad by home Democratic organs. State Trabune.

If the Democrate of West Virginia think there is no trouble in their party, they are more billed with discord in a hundred places. They thought that Camden was out of politics. Thought was made and Kenna factions. They think that Wilson is dead. They think that Jim Mason is opposed to monopoly. They think that Lucas and Fanikner will love each other, however, the Senate may decide their contest. They think the bickers were satisfied with the delection of Fanikner will love each other, however, the Senate may decide their contest. They think the bickers were satisfied with the delection of Fanikner. They think the fight between Wilson's followers and those of Camden onded with the defeat of Camden. They think that Fanikner's election brought harmony to the party.

They were never more mistaken in their lives. There is no harmony in the Democratic party of West Virginia. Camden is not only not out of politics, but he is an important and potent power on the Democratic side of West Virginia politics. He has some debts to pay, some wrongs to equare, some ensures to punish or we are greatly in error. We are also in great error if the signs do not indicate that he isorganizing to that end.
